

MANUFACTURING

Assembling a future with fewer accidents for your manufacturing clients

The manufacturing industry has evolved rapidly, but injuries remain a looming problem. Fortunately, Foresight is changing the future of workers' comp by wrapping our proprietary risk management technology, Safesite, into every policy so that companies can focus on what matters: ensuring the safety of their people and getting the job done.

In fact, clients using Safesite have seen an average 18% reduction in claims frequency in just one policy year. With customized safety planning, virtual consulting, and a holistic approach to improved safety engagement and loss reduction, Foresight helps give your customers an edge in safety.
