

Become indispensable to clients in high-hazard industries

How Foresight Workers' Comp Insurance helps you do more

What if you could turn “shop-and-switch” workers' comp prospects into engaged clients – the kind that make it easy to sustain and grow your business?

At Foresight, we're passionate about keeping your clients' workers safe, which is why we wrap our groundbreaking Safesite technology platform around every Foresight workers' compensation plan we write – at no additional cost. It's a winning combination that can help you open doors with customers in safety critical industries – and keep them open with recurring business.

Here's how we can help you:

1 Provide more value to workers' comp.

Our Safesite technology platform is built to help your clients improve safety and reduce claim frequency by 18%, on average – while rewarding them with lower rates. By tying safe workplace practices to insurance savings, we deliver measurable value to your customers' safety programs – and their bottom line.

2 Close more business in core industries.

Leverage the expertise of our Safety Success Team to explain, sell and set up Safesite for you and your clients. They'll want to see how our innovative safety app and virtual coaching services are helping customers in safety critical industries, like construction, manufacturing, agribusiness and janitorial, to improve ex-mods and reduce premiums in just one policy term.

3 Reduce the time and stress of risk management

Our cutting-edge Safesite safety app is accessible via any mobile device – making it simple and convenient for your customers to log safety inspections and certifications, complete OSHA reports, conduct safety meetings and training and more from the worksite, office or wherever is convenient. Then access Safesite sell sheets and other educational and support materials to help your clients keep improving their safety program.

4 Become your customers' safety program hero.

Leverage the expertise of our Safety Success Team to show customers in core industries how they can improve ex-mods and reduce premiums in just one policy term through Safesite's innovative safety app and virtual coaching service. Clients who use Safesite see its value, helping to ensure you'll retain their business year after year.

Tap into the competitive commissions we offer and build your workers' comp book with loyal customers who make Safesite their #1 tool for reducing claim frequency and premiums. To learn more visit getforesight.com.
